

“Our rapidly growing North American Headquarters in Dallas needed a space that could accommodate not only our expanding staff, but our growing technology needs as well. With our main office in Israel and customers all over the US and the world, accessibility to transportation and visitor accommodations was also a major factor in our location needs. NAI Robert Lynn found our company the ideal location and has done an outstanding job of assisting us with negotiations and expansion projects as we have grown out of one building into another and the expansions within our current location.”
